

Endpoint Protection and CloudGuard SaaS providing SmartWave Technologies' secures and comprehensive security threat

“Check Point Endpoint Protection gives us advanced protection without impacting our users. We gained robust defenses that protect IP consistently—wherever it travels.”

— Dhevan Yogeswaran
System Administrator
SmartWave Technologies

SmartWave Technologies customers benefit from low-cost manufacturing while also enjoying world-class design and a single source of accountability via professionals in North America

Share this story

Challenge

- To Protect employee endpoints from cyber security threats that compromise SmartWave's operations which covers North America and China
- To protect and to track the movement of SmartWave's Intellectual property on both removable medias
- To provide comprehensive security on emails threats and ensuring the validity of the emails.
- To have a vendor that allow the customers to build a proof of concept of the products which integrated with the customers' business
- To have a vendor that is trustworthy and reliable even after sales and to provide support as well to provide
- To be able to provide centralized management feature

Solution

- Check Point Harmony Email & Office
- Check Point Harmony Endpoint

Results

- Encrypted USB devices and documents to prevent unauthorized access or use
- Secured remote access to bypass unreliable public WiFi networks
- Gained ability to stop endpoint threats coming from cloud-based email and online downloads
- To provided second layer security when operating with international countries

Learn more at:
Checkpoint.com/customer-stories/