“CPX has been beneficial to me in building relationships across leadership and engineering which helps me understand their product roadmaps. It also provides a platform to share our security concerns as well as deepening my relationship with the larger account team.”

- Emmanuel Bot, Director of Information Security, Wiley Rein LLP

“The value I get from CPX is almost immeasurable. I have the opportunity to network with peers from around the world and Check Point R&D. I can ask pertinent questions that I need answers to in order to make our infrastructure better for our customers.”

- Scott Perry, IT Security Architect, ENT Credit Union

“CPX has allowed us to see a different way to protect our data in the cloud and we have learned to do it with the tools and elements that this event has given us. Security in the cloud is not just a trend, it is our corporate strategy and for that reason security is our priority”

- Zully Romero, Security Architect, Avianca
